

Learn more about our new Residents!

Lindsey is a person who loves adventure. Travel has always been a form of adventure she is interested in. From bettering the communities in Honduras and Uganda, to relaxing and having fun in Peru and Belize. Lindsey travels as much as possible. She also loves playing board games when she gets the time and is always down to try new foods and new experiences.

Reyn was a rascal child growing up, and was urged by his teachers to leave public school so that he could receive more “attention” at a private institution. He fell in love with basketball when he realized he could use it to release his pent-up energy. Because he was too short for the NBA, he opted for a more academic route. He’s travelled the world going on hikes, exploring ruins, petting tigers and riding elephants.

Michael was born in San Diego, but has lived on both coasts and in between. He has traveled and lived in Asia, Europe, and the South Pacific. He enjoys learning new cultures and languages. He also loves food and cooking, and is also a promoter of food as medicine and the Farm to table/slow food movement. He is also a trained yoga teacher and can be found stretching in almost any situation.

Born and raised in Simi Valley, California. Matt is a southern California native. He is a first generation college graduate from the University of Southern California. He completed both his undergraduate and medical degrees there. In fact, he likes to joke that between his undergrad and medical school tuition, he is a “big time donor” to USC! Matt’s professional interests include working with underserved populations and sports medicine. In his free time you may be able to spot him supporting his alma mater at the USC football games, hiking with his two golden retrievers, trying the latest new restaurants and traveling with his fiancé (Edith), or supporting the performing arts as an avid theater goer.

Ever since Siri was 21, she has kept a bucket list of experiences that she hopes to complete in her lifetime. Siri’s interests and hobbies revolve around this list that includes traveling, experiencing different cultures, volunteer work, teaching, reading and learning to bake different types of desserts. Currently, Siri is hoping to witness and photograph the Northern Lights!

Clint is excited to be back in the West after becoming a Toronto Rapture fan in Niagara Falls New York while in Med School. In a prior life Clint played football for the St. Louis Rams and is thrilled to follow them back to LA County to contribute to the health and well-being of its residents as a physician.

Born and raised in California, Ashton has spent the last 5 years in New York. He is a die-hard Laker Fan and loves to play basketball. In his free time he enjoys watching and going to the movies and is a bit of a movie buff. Likes to cook when he gets a chance and can make a mean cheesecake from scratch.

Christine comes from a family of five girls. She’s straight dab in the middle. She’s the only American in her family, everyone else is Canadian and still live in Vancouver. On her spare time you can find her at the latest “hot spot” restaurant because she loves food! She also loves traveling, anything Disney and Harry Potter.