Dr. Pavel Moldavskiy, M.D.

Orthopedic Surgeon

Dr. Moldavskiy is a comprehensively trained Orthopedic Surgeon specializing in treatment of the Hand, Wrist, Elbow, and Microsurgery.

He has worked with world-renowned hand and upper-extremity surgeons across the United States. Having trained with Dr. A. Lee Osterman at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital in Philadelphia, and Dr. Milan Stevanovic at Los-Angeles County USC Medical Center in Los Angeles, he is experienced in all aspects of upper extremity reconstruction from shoulder to fingertips.

Dr. Moldavskiy completed his Orthopedic Residency training at LAC-USC County Hospital. He received extensive training at the University of Southern California and Los Angeles County Hospitals, taking care of patients ranging from USC athletes to high-energy trauma reconstruction.

Education and Accomplishments:

- University of California, Los Angeles - Bachelor of Science, Biology Major
- Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California - Doctor of Medicine
- LAC-USC Medical Center - Residency, Department of Orthopedic Surgery
- The Philadelphia Hand Center - Hand Surgery Fellowship

Dr. Moldavskiy has also been involved in a variety of research related to orthopedics ranging from treatment of distal radius fractures to use of intramedullary screw fixation in proximal phalanx fractures.

Dr. Moldavskiy is new to the Bakersfield community. He is looking forward to providing compassionate care to his patients alongside his colleagues at Mercy's Orthopedic, Hand & Spine Center. In his spare time, he enjoys spending time with his family, watching and playing sports, and reading.
