The Adrian Dominican Sisters Fact Sheet

In 1947, the Adrian Dominican Sisters of Adrian, Michigan, purchased a small hospital from the United States Government in the industrial town of Henderson, Nevada, for $1 a year for 25 years. Today, the hospital system consists of three campuses – Rose de Lima, San Martín and Siena – and is known as Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican, the only not-for-profit, religiously sponsored hospital system in southern Nevada.

An enduring presence to this day at Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican, the Adrian Dominican Sisters have been the sponsors of the hospital system for more than 65 years. This extraordinary group of women still serve in various roles at St. Rose – from hospital executives to volunteers. It was their dedication to improving the health status of the community with a commitment to those with special needs that created the unique environment of quality, compassionate care that embodies the Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican approach to health care today.

The origins of the Dominican Sisters date back to the 13th century when Dominic Guzman, a Canon Regular in Osma, a city on the Christian frontier of Moorish-held Spain, called together a group of 11 women to form the St. Mary Convent in Prouille, France, and founded the Order of Preachers. Through the years, most Dominican Convents for women were cloistered. In 1853, four women were sent from Europe to teach in the New World and these women became the foundation of 11 Dominican congregations in the United States. In 1884, six sisters opened the St. Joseph Hospital and Home for the Aged in Adrian, Michigan, which began the Adrian Dominican legacy of service for the poor, sick and oppressed.

In the evolutionary spirit of St. Dominic, the Adrian Dominican Congregation became distinctly American in character, retaining, however, the legacy of its founder and his descendants. This legacy is recognized by the initials “OP” used after each sister’s family name, connoting the Order of Preachers.

The Sisters minister in 29 states, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and in seven countries: Canada, the Dominican Republic, Kenya, Mexico, Norway, the Philippines, and Taiwan. Responsive to the “signs of the times,” they strive to address the needs of the world, to serve where they are called to go.

Ministries have been developed from the traditional works of education, health care and social work. Sisters serve in such ministries as education, administration, law, social work, health care, pastoral ministry, music, art, and office work. Together, they continue the Dominican tradition of preaching through our prayer, study, ministry, and common life.

Namesake Saints of Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican

Each Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican hospital is named for a Catholic saint whose life embodied values that inspire modern health care. The extraordinary compassion modeled by these three individuals continues to be a guiding presence to the employees of Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican. The hospital system gets its name from the original campus, Rose de Lima, while the second and third hospital campuses adopted names of saints who served the sick and helpless – Siena after Catherine of Siena and San Martín after Martín de Porres.

Catherine of Siena, Saint (1347-1380)

Originally named Caterina Benincasa, Catherine of Siena was born in Siena, Italy, on March 25, 1347, to a family of modest means. She was a lay member of the Dominican Order and had great compassion for the poor and sick. Her preaching took the form of prolific writing, extensive travel and active involvement in both church and civil politics which was unusual for a woman of her time.

Catherine died on April 29, 1380, was canonized by Pope Pius II in 1461, and in 1939, Pope Pius XII named her Co-Patroness of Italy. In 1970, Pope Paul VI declared her a Doctor of the Church which means her teachings are considered relevant for the whole church and for all time. She is only one of three women who hold that title.

Rose de Lima, Saint (1586-1617)

Born April 20, 1586, Rose of Lima (Peru) lived two centuries after Catherine. She took the habit of the Third Order of Dominic and followed the dedicated path of Catherine of Siena. Throughout her life, Rose strived to imitate Catherine's prayerfulness and dedication to the poor and sick.

Rose was the first canonized saint of the Americas. She combined her spiritual life with a life of service to oppressed Indians and African slaves. Rose's care of them was so exceptional that she is remembered as a "mother of the poor" to this day in Latin America. Rose died August 30, 1617. She was beatified by Clement IX in 1667 and canonized in 1671 by Clement X.

Martin de Porres, Saint (1579-1639)

Martin de Porres was born in Lima, Peru, on December 9, 1579. Early in his life, Martin apprenticed with a surgeon-barber where he learned about medicine and the basics of caring for the sick and afflicted. Martin begged the wealthy people of Lima to support the poor and sick. At the age of 24, he was the first person of African descent to be given the habit of a Dominican lay Brother and he was assigned to the infirmary of that monastery. He served the people of Lima in that position until his death in 1639 at the age of 60.

Martin de Porres was well loved and his momentous dedication and service to others was recognized in 1962 when Pope John XXIII canonized him. Martin de Porres became the first saint of African descent.
