ENHANCE YOUR LIFE

Fitness has no age limit

Embrace vitality

In this issue of Reach, we're happy to offer tips to help you rev up your vitality.

One of the best and more powerful ways can also be the most fun: moving your body. For inspiration, check out how some fun-loving folks are making the most of one of our special and free fitness programs in "Older, Bolder, Stronger," page 4.

We also encourage you to seek a more joyful heart. And we're here to help—with 10 ideas to boost your mood.

We'll invite you into the kitchen, where a Dignity Health—St. Rose Dominican nutrition expert dishes out 12 healthy tips and tricks to help you get cooking. You can follow our recipe to wrap up a sweet and nutritious breakfast and learn three easy ways to cut back on added sugars.

We also share vital information about signs of a heart attack and offer pointers that can help you prevent falls around the home.

So reach for your best life—and start this spring with more vitality!

A heads-up...

about distracted walking

It's a modern-day problem. You've seen it, and you may have even done it a time or two—distracted walking with a smartphone.

Talking on the phone.

Sending texts.

Listening to music.

The danger: falls, stumbles, collisions—and potentially serious injuries.

Phones down, heads up! Walk this way:

- Keep your focus on what's in front of and around you.
- Stop walking—and step aside to a safe place—to check your phone, text or take calls.
- Skip the earbuds or turn down the volume to hear what's going on around you.

Why I give

"I have been a cook, a busboy, and a dishwasher. I have been a janitor and worked as a furniture delivery man. I have been a professor, a teacher, and a scientist. But it will be 'doctor' that someone will someday carve on my headstone. I have spent the last 25 years training to be a doctor, being a doctor, and now working as Chief Physician Executive of Dignity Health—St. Rose Dominican.

I was lucky to have found a career that has given me so much—and luckier still to be supported by my family while I pursued my goals. I also recognize that I have enjoyed my career as a doctor for completely selfish reasons. Selfish because I learned long ago that the greatest joy in life is helping others. I count it as a privilege (and a pleasure) that I spent the first half of my career caring for critically ill and injured children, and during those years, I had the further honor of working with Children's Miracle Network, which was another way to give. Giving is the best way I have found to make myself happy."

—Robert Pretzlaff, MD

Derrol and Carol Bade

Becoming or staying fit

as you age is definitely possible. Just ask Carol and Derrol Bade, regular participants in the free EnhanceFitness classes held at St. Rose Dominican's WomensCare/Outreach Centers.

EnhanceFitness is a program specifically designed for older adults of all fitness levels. What makes it different from your average gym workout? The one-hour classes are held in a relaxed, casual atmosphere. You won't find any uber-serious athletes—just older adults improving their lives through exercise. You can also expect to hear a lot of good cheer and laughter.

'It's really helped both of us'

Carol got involved about a year ago. She participates in the tai chi classes offered at the Centers and heard about EnhanceFitness there. "I attended a few classes and enjoyed it so much that I persuaded my husband, Derrol, to come with me," she says. "Derrol has neuropathy in his legs, and we wanted to make sure his upper-body strength didn't deteriorate."

"The program is really well designed," Carol says. "It's helped both of us in ways we never imagined. I'm strong enough now that I can get Derrol's wheelchair in the car."

Derrol agrees that the program is worthwhile. "I enjoy the classes so much, we go three times a week now," he says with a smile. "It's made me stronger and really improved my balance."

∞ Forever young

Take an EnhanceFitness class to become more active, energized, and empowered. Turn to page 7 for class locations and meetings, or find them online at StRoseHospitals.org/classes.

1-2-3: Be the best you can be

Paige Misling, a certified EnhanceFitness instructor, says the class combines three key fitness components:

- 1. Strength training. Train with light weights.
- 2. Flexibility and balance. Increase range of motion and help prevent falls.
- 3. Cardiovascular conditioning. Gain improvements in walking and breathing.

"All of our instructors have been trained by an EnhanceFitness master trainer, and each exercise was developed by experts in the field of physical therapy," Paige says. "We provide individual attention and can demonstrate and make modifications to find an exercise level that is safe and the perfect fit for each person."

EnhanceFitness began as a program managed by Senior Services in Seattle, Washington, in collaboration with the University of Washington Health Promotion Research Center, supported by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention cooperative. Pilot results, published in the Journal of American Geriatrics Society, showed the program significantly improved overall fitness and health.

Bring it on

10 ways to add more joy to your life

The poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow once wrote, “Into each life some rain must fall.”

If your outlook sometimes feels more cloudy than sunny, it’s time to find some joy. And it’s easier than you might think.

“Being joyful has the power to help you bounce back from stressful events,” says Tawanda McIntosh, a health educator at St. Rose Dominican’s WomensCare/Outreach Centers. “Feeling joy can help you solve problems, think creatively, and even fend off diseases.”

Tawanda
McIntosh

Yes, please! Tawanda suggests these 10 simple ways to help make your days brighter:

1. DO SOMETHING YOU LOVED AS A KID. Sing silly songs, splash in puddles, or see how high you can swing.

2. LAUGH AT LIFE'S HASSLES. No day is perfect. But there’s often something at least a little amusing in challenging situations if you look for it.

3. COLLECT SAYINGS OR PHOTOS THAT MAKE YOU SMILE. Then stick them where they’re visible—on your refrigerator or at your desk—to look at when you need a pick-me-up.

4. PLAY A SONG YOU LOVE. Imaging tests of brains show that music can release feel-good hormones. Even better ... dance like no one’s watching!

5. GO FOR IT. Stop putting experiences you want to try on hold. Bake a pie from scratch, learn to crochet, or sign up for a yoga or an indoor climbing class—explore what intrigues you.

6. TAKE A NATURE BREAK. Look up at the sky and see how blue it really is. Go on an early-morning walk and delight in the dew on the grass. Let nature’s beauty soothe you.

7. TAKE A MENTAL BREAK. Close your eyes and imagine a place you love. Use all your senses. Are you drawn to the beach? Smell the salt water, feel the sun on your back, and hear the crashing waves.

8. SPREAD HAPPINESS. When you get good news, don’t keep it to yourself—tell a friend. You’ll relive the moment and have the extra pleasure of your friend’s reaction.

9. SEEK OUT HAPPY PEOPLE. Good moods are contagious.

10. DEVELOP YOUR PLAYFUL SIDE. Joke with strangers in line, arrange nights out with friends, or have a regular game night with your family.

Create some joy.

12 COOKING TIPS & TRICKS

Get ready to raise a whisk to better health and vitality.

Before you hit the grocery store or the drive-thru, check out these cooking tips and tricks from Sharon Nasser, Director of Nutrition Services at Dignity Health—St. Rose Dominican’s San Martín Campus. “Each one is a no-fuss way to help you and your family eat better—without sacrificing taste,” says Sharon. “Together, they can help fuel your days with nourishing foods—and offer protection from serious health conditions, including heart disease, cancer, and diabetes.”

1 Go for fiber-filled flour.

In dough and batter, substitute fiber-rich whole-wheat flour for half of the refined white flour. Give oat flour a try, too—you can even make your own. Just whirl dry oatmeal in a blender. Then replace up to a third of the white flour in recipes with the oat flour.

2 Let garlic sit a spell.

After crushing or chopping raw garlic, let it sit for 10 or 15 minutes, rather than tossing it into a hot pan right away. The extra time triggers an enzyme reaction that boosts the production of allicin, a powerful, health-promoting plant chemical.

Give it a try soon! How about some pasta shells with garlicky kale? Find the recipe at StRoseReach.org.

3 Scale back on sugar.

Typically, you can reduce the sugar in any recipe by a quarter, and you won’t taste the difference. Or you can switch out sugar for an equal amount of unsweetened applesauce. You can also sweeten recipes with vanilla or peppermint extracts or spices, such as cinnamon or allspice.

4 Satisfy a sweet tooth with fruity delights.

Serve baked apples or pears for dessert. Or grill bananas, pineapple slices, or peach halves until the fruit is hot and slightly golden. Another sweet trick: Puree apples, berries, peaches, or pears in a blender to make a nutrient-rich sauce for whole-grain pancakes or waffles, frozen yogurt, or even toast. See page 16 for a quick and fruity treat and more sugar-cutting advice.

5 Make over quickbreads and muffins.

Cut back on calories and saturated fat by substituting three ripe, well-mashed bananas for ½ cup butter, lard, shortening, or oil in a recipe. Or try this swap: Replace 1 cup of any of these fats with 1 cup of applesauce.

6 Keep cookouts lean.

Please a crowd with turkey burgers. Make them from ground turkey breast (it can be as lean as 99 percent fat-free) seasoned with cilantro, shallots, or chili sauce. For variety, serve marinated and grilled portobello mushrooms. They’re beefy—without the meat!

Healthy shopping on a budget.

7 Try something grate.

Sneak more produce into your family’s diet by adding grated or chopped fruits or veggies to your favorite foods. A few ideas: Try shredded carrots in muffins or meatloaf, grated apples in pancakes, or grated or chopped zucchini or spinach in lasagna and other pasta dishes.

8 Keep fish heart-healthy.

Fish such as salmon, albacore tuna, and lake trout are rich in omega-3 fatty acids, which help reduce heart disease risk. But rather than smother fish in a creamy sauce, bake it with a splash of reduced-fat salad dressing, tomatoes, and fresh herbs. Likewise, instead of deep-frying fish, oven-fry it. Dip it first in egg whites, then coat it in breadcrumbs and bake.

9 Create a rainbow.

Choose produce of different hues to increase the variety of nutrients, minerals, and phytochemicals—disease-fighting plant chemicals—in your diet. Tuck spinach leaves and sliced red pepper and avocado into sandwiches. Add sliced beets, dried cranberries, orange segments, or sweet peas to salads. And top pizzas with colorful veggies.

10 Save the skin.

Scrub—rather than peel—edible skin on produce such as carrots, potatoes, and pears. It’s a rich source of vitamins, minerals, and fiber. Consider: A medium baked potato with the skin on has twice the fiber of one without it—about 5 grams compared to 2.5.

11 Fool your eyes.

Puree cooked orange veggies, such as carrots, sweet potatoes, and butternut squash. Then add them to cheesy dishes, such as mac and cheese, lasagna, and baked enchiladas. Since cheeses and the pureed veggies blend well, you can use less cheese, which tends to be high in saturated fat and sodium.

12 Save good-for-you nutrients.

Some minerals and vitamins dissolve in cooking water. So steam vegetables in a microwave or vegetable steamer. That way, veggies and cooking liquids usually stay separate. And resist the urge to rinse rice before cooking—that can wash nutrients straight down the drain.

Knowledge is power

Learn to spot heart attack symptoms—you could have one or more

This is vital info: “Chest pain or discomfort is the most common symptom of a heart attack,” says Zia Khan, MD, board-certified interventional cardiologist. “But symptoms can be felt in many areas of the body.”

Zia Khan, MD

Shoulders or arms:

pain or discomfort in one or both

Chest: pain or discomfort

Lungs: shortness of breath; coughing

Body: breaking out in a cold sweat; fatigue or weakness

Head: dizziness; light-headedness

Neck or jaw: pain or discomfort

Back: pain or discomfort

Stomach: pain or discomfort; nausea; vomiting

Make the call. If you think you're having a heart attack or witnessing one, call 911 right away. Quick treatment can help save heart tissue and lives.

Be a lifesaver. Our Heartsaver CPR/AED class will teach you how to respond to medical emergencies. Get details on page 10 or online at StRoseHospitals.org/classes.

Steady as you go...

Great tips to help prevent falls

It's pretty common to see a toddler take a tumble, get up, and go—no worse for wear. But as we get older, falls become a more serious health risk.

To help prevent falls, Dena Berezin, MSOTR/L—a registered, licensed occupational therapist and St. Rose Dominican's fall prevention program instructor—shares some ideas on reducing hazards and maintaining your strength, balance, and vision.

Around the home

- Always wear nonslip and stable shoes—not slippers—both inside and outside.
- Keep clutter to a minimum.
- Arrange furniture so there's a clear walkway. Keep objects off the floor and electrical cords next to the wall so you won't trip over them.
- Remove throw rugs or small area rugs.
- On the stairs, fix loose or uneven steps. Install sturdy handrails on both sides of the stairway, and keep it clutter-free. Make sure there's plenty of light on inside and outside steps.
- In the bathroom, use a nonslip mat on the tub or shower floor. Install grab bars next to the tub and toilet. If you're prone to falling, use a shower chair.
- Keep a flashlight next to your bed or have night lights that provide clear vision to your restroom.

More you can do

- Get up slowly after sitting or lying down.
- Use a cane or walker if you're unsteady.

Stepping On: Fall Prevention Program

Learn to protect yourself in this free seven-week class. See page 10 for class information.

- Exercise regularly to improve strength, coordination, and balance.
- Have your vision checked at least once a year, and update your eyeglasses when needed.
- See your doctor if you're having trouble with balance or dizziness. Your prescription and over-the-counter medications should be reviewed during your appointment as side effects could include dizziness or sleepiness, which contribute to falls.
- Keep a cellphone or medical alert device with you so you can always get help.

Breakfast fruit wrap

Makes 1 serving.

Ingredients

- 2 teaspoons fruit-only strawberry preserves
- 1 tortilla, preferably whole-wheat
- 2 tablespoons reduced-fat ricotta cheese
- 1/3 to 1/2 cup sliced fresh strawberries
- 2 tablespoons sliced almonds, toasted

Directions

- On a surface, spread preserves on tortilla. Top with ricotta cheese, then top with sliced fruit, and sprinkle with almonds.

- Starting from one end, roll tightly. Wrap in foil for neater eating.

Variation: Spread tortilla with apricot preserves and use sliced fresh or canned, well-drained peaches.

3 ways to cut back on added sugars

1. Choose naturally sweet fruits for desserts or snacks.

2. Shop for foods with less or no added sugar. For instance, choose plain (instead of flavored) yogurt and add your favorite fruit. Try unsweetened applesauce and fruit canned in water or natural juices rather than heavy syrup.

3. Swap your usual sweetened soda, punch, or energy drink for water flavored with sliced, fresh fruit.
