

Leadership

Brian Brannman, FACHE
Senior Vice President of Operations, Dignity Health Nevada
President/CEO, Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican, Siena Campus

Brian Brannman joined Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican in 2014 and was previously the CEO at University Medical Center in Las Vegas.

His extensive healthcare leadership experience prior to UMC includes more than 30 years with the United States Navy, including serving as commander and CEO of Navy Medicine West. In this role, Brannman was charged by the Navy Surgeon General to create and direct the operations of ten naval hospitals and multiple outpatient clinics across the West Coast and Far East. Prior to this assignment, he served as CEO of Naval Medical Center in San Diego, Calif., the largest multispecialty academic medical center in the Department of Defense system, serving three million enrollees. Other assignments included serving as principal staff officer in Navy headquarters in Washington, D.C. for health care issues, and executive positions in naval hospitals in Japan, Haiti and the United States.

A fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives, Brannman has a Master of Science degree from the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, Calif., a Master of Arts in healthcare management from Webster College and a bachelor's degree in healthcare administration from Southern Illinois University.

Teresa Conley, RN, MSN, MBA, DPA
President/CEO, Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican, Rose de Lima Campus
Chief Operating Officer, Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican, Siena Campus

Teresa Conley is President/CEO for the Rose de Lima Campus in addition to handling her duties as Chief Operations Officer at the Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican, Siena Campus. Conley began her career with Dignity Health in 2001 as Chief Nursing Officer at Northridge Hospital-Sherman Way Campus. She then became Chief Operations Officer at Northridge in 2002.

Before joining Dignity Health, Conley held various roles at Riverside County Regional Medical Center in California, including Chief Nursing Officer, Director of Transition Planning and Assistant Director of Nursing. Her career in healthcare began at the Minneapolis Veteran's Hospital in Minneapolis, Minnesota. Conley holds a Master of Science in Business Administration from the University of La Verne in California, a Master of Science in Nursing, Critical Care, from California State University, Long Beach, and a Doctorate of Public Administration from the University of La Verne.

Larry Barnard, MBA
President/CEO, Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican, San Martín Campus

Larry Barnard joined Dignity Health-St. Rose Dominican in 2014, and was previously the CEO at University Medical Center in Las Vegas. Before he was appointed its CEO, he served as UMC's chief operating officer for two years. Prior to his roles at UMC, Barnard was Valley Hospital Medical Center's associate administrator and acting chief operating officer, and the associate administrator at Summerlin Hospital Medical Center. He also worked in hospital administration at facilities in Southern California and North Carolina.

Barnard graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point and served as a U.S. Army captain for five years. He received an MBA from the University of Southern California's Marshall School of Business.