Oncology Research Program

The Mercy UC Davis Cancer Center provides a full range of cancer treatment and support services, including world-class care provided by a multi-disciplinary team, through Mercy Medical Center, part of the Dignity Health system. An important part of the center's ongoing commitment to excellence includes leadership in the field of cancer research.

The physicians and staff of Mercy UC Davis Cancer Center are focused on identifying new technology, procedures and devices that will positively impact our patients, improving their symptoms, their prognosis and their quality of life.

About the Program

Mercy UC Davis Cancer Center is proud to be a part of multiple multi-center, national and international clinical research trials. Through continued participation in these clinical trials, the center is helping to discover new treatments for various cancers, including breast, lung, prostate, and colorectal.

The program is led by dedicated physicians and professional research staff. This team actively participates in numerous National Institutes of Health studies and Industry Sponsored trials.

The mission of the oncology research program is to support continued innovation in the field of oncology care, with the goal of finding new ways to provide timely and effective treatment to patients diagnosed with cancer.
