

RESOURCE SERIES: POLAR PRODUCTS

Polar Products Inc. is a family-owned and operated business specializing in the design and manufacture of innovative, high-quality, competitively priced body cooling and hot/cold therapy systems. Polar Products has 40 years of experience cooling people in diverse applications, including industrial safety, construction, emergency services, athletics and fitness, the military and people with medical heat-sensitivity. Their reusable hot and cold therapy products provide natural, drug-free relief from pain and are used by hospitals, therapists, doctors, sports teams, and individuals worldwide! Polar Products have worked closely with MS patient advocacy organizations to provide cooling products for people living with MS.

Join us, virtually, to learn about the services provided by Polar Products and as a community partner of the John A. Schafer, MD Multiple Sclerosis Achievement Center!
