Strategies and Programs to Address Needs

The hospital intends to take several actions and to dedicate resources to these needs, including:

- Enhanced Mental Health Crisis & Follow-Up: This strategic partnership addresses the limited access to behavioral health services by improving communication and collaboration abilities of the nonprofit agencies involved through direct referrals to lower levels of care which increases the number of individuals served and decrease delays in service.
- Patient Navigation Program: Serves as an access point for vulnerable individuals and families to be connected to primary care/community health and social services, receive case management, education, and enrollment support
- Haven House Recuperative Care Program: Medical respite transitional program that utilizes a four bed house and offers respite for homeless individuals upon discharge from the hospital
- Oncology Nurse Navigator: Offers one-to-one support and guidance to patients diagnosed with cancer from the day of diagnosis onwards including patient's immediate concerns and barriers to care such as difficulties with insurance, financial burden, lack of transportation and addressing the knowledge deficit of around their diagnosis and treatment options.
- Yolo Adult Day Health Center: Addresses specialty health care and support needs of the elderly and disabled populations by offering a high touch interdisciplinary program of medical, psycho-social and rehabilitation services for adults at high risk of needing a higher level of care due to health, functional and cognitive losses. • Community Based Violence Prevention Program: Focuses on educating staff to identify and respond to victims within the hospital; provide victim-centered, trauma-informed care; and collaborate with community agencies to improve quality of care.

Anticipated Impact	The anticipated impacts of specific, major program initiatives, including goals and objectives, are stated in the program digests on the following pages. Overall, the hospital anticipates that actions taken to address significant health needs will: improve health knowledge, behaviors, and status; increase access to care; and help create conditions that support good health. The hospital is committed to monitoring key initiatives to assess and improve impact. The Community Health Committee, hospital executive leadership, Community Board, and Dignity Health receive and review program updates. The hospital creates and makes public an annual Community Benefit Report and Plan, and evaluates impact and sets priorities for its community health program by conducting Community Health Needs Assessments every three years.

Description of the Community Served

Woodland Memorial Hospital's community or hospital service area (HSA) is defined as the geographic area (by ZIP code) in which the hospital receives its top 75% of discharges. The hospital's service area encompassed seven zip codes (95695, 95776, 95627, 95912, 95987, 95616, and 95645). A summary description of the community is below. Additional details can be found in the CHNA report online.

The City of Woodland has a strong historic heritage and serves as the primary support community for agricultural services. Davis is a unique university community internationally known for its commitment to environmental awareness and progressive and socially innovative programs. Winters is a small city located on Putah Creek in the western Yolo County, and is home to a thriving agricultural industry. West Sacramento sits on the Sacramento River, on the east side of Yolo County, and is home to the Port of Sacramento, which ships over a million tons of agricultural products to worldwide markets. Less than a quarter of the region's population resides in unincorporated communities, including Esparto, the gateway to Capay Valley, Madison, Yolo, Dunnigan, Clarksburg, Guida, Knights Landing, Monument Hills, Capay, Plainfield, Brooks, Rumsey, El Macero and Zamora. Arbuckle and portions of Dixon are designated as Health Professional Shortage Areas by the U.S. government's Health Resources and Services Administration. Woodland Memorial's service area also includes the University of California, Davis one of the world's leading cross-disciplinary research and teaching institutions located near Davis, California and the Yocha Dehe Wintun Nation, an independent, sovereign, self-governed nation that supports its people, the Capay Valley community and the region by strengthening culture, stewarding the land and creating economic independence for future generations.

Community Assessment and Significant Needs

The hospital engages in multiple activities to conduct its community health improvement planning process. These include, but are not limited, to conducting a Community Health Needs Assessment with community input at least every three years, identifying collaborating community stakeholder organizations, describing anticipated impacts of program activities and measuring program indicators.

Community Health Needs Assessment

The health issues that form the basis of the hospital's community health implementation strategy and programs were identified in the most recent CHNA report, which was adopted in May 2022.

The CHNA contains several key elements, including:

- Description of the assessed community served by the hospital;
- Description of assessment processes and methods;
- Presentation of data, information and findings, including significant community health needs;
- Community resources potentially available to help address identified needs; and
- Discussion of impacts of actions taken by the hospital since the preceding CHNA.

Additional detail about the needs assessment process and findings can be found in the CHNA report, which is publicly available at dignityhealth.org/sacramento/about-us/community-health-and-outreach/health-needs-assessment or upon request at the hospital's Community Health office.

Significant Health Needs

The CHNA identified the significant needs in the table below, which also indicates which needs the hospital intends to address. Identified needs may include specific health conditions, behaviors and health care services, and also health-related social needs that have an impact on health and well-being.

Significant Health Need	Description	Intend to Address?
1. Access to Basic Needs Such as Housing, Jobs, and Food	Access to affordable and clean housing, stable employment, quality education, and adequate food for good health are vital for survival. Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs suggests that only when people have their basic physiological and safety needs met can they become engaged members of society and self-actualize or live to their fullest potential, including enjoying good health. Research shows that the social determinants of health, such as quality housing, adequate employment and income, food security, education, and social support systems, influence individual health as much as health behaviors and access to clinical care.	✓
2. Access to Mental/Behavioral Health and Substance Use Services	Individual health and well-being are inseparable from individual mental and emotional outlook. Coping with daily life stressors is challenging for many people, especially when other social, familial, and economic challenges occur. Access	✓ to mental, behavioral, and substance-use services is an essential ingredient for a healthy community where residents can obtain additional support when needed.

3. Injury and Disease Prevention and Management	Knowledge is important for individual health and well-being, and efforts aimed at injury and disease prevention are powerful vehicles to improve community health. When community residents lack adequate information on how to prevent, manage, and control their health conditions, those conditions tend to worsen. Prevention efforts focus on reducing cases of injury and infectious disease control (e.g., sexually transmitted infection (STI) prevention and influenza shots), and intensive strategies in the management of chronic diseases (e.g., diabetes, hypertension, obesity, and heart disease) are important for community health improvement.	✓
4. Active Living and Healthy Eating	Physical activity and eating a healthy diet are important for one's overall health and well-being. Frequent physical activity is vital for prevention of disease and maintenance of a strong and healthy heart and mind. When access to healthy foods is challenging for community residents, many turn to unhealthy foods that are convenient, affordable, and readily available. Communities experiencing social vulnerability and poor health outcomes are often overloaded with fast food and other establishments where unhealthy food is sold. They are often challenged with food insecurity, lacking the means to consistently secure food for themselves or their families. When families rely on food pantries and school meals alone, these may not always provide sufficient nutrition for maintaining health.	✓
5. Access to Quality Primary Care Health Services	Primary care resources include community clinics, pediatricians, family practice physicians, internists, nurse practitioners and physician assistants, pharmacists, telephone advice nurses, and other similar resources. Primary care services are typically the first point of contact when an individual seeks healthcare. These services are the front line in the prevention and treatment of common diseases and injuries in a community.	✓
6. System Navigation	System navigation refers to an individual's ability to traverse fragmented social services and healthcare systems in order to receive the necessary benefits and supports to improve health outcomes. Research has demonstrated that navigating the complex U.S. healthcare system is a barrier for many that results in health disparities. Furthermore, accessing social services provided by government agencies can be an obstacle	✓

	for those with limited resources such as transportation access and English proficiency.
7. Access to Specialty and Extended Care	Extended care services, which include specialty care, are services provided in a particular branch of medicine and focused on the treatment of a particular disease. Primary and specialty care go hand in hand, and without access to specialists such as endocrinologists, cardiologists, and gastroenterologists, community residents are often left to manage the progression of chronic diseases, including diabetes and high blood pressure, on their own. In addition to specialty care, extended care refers to care extending beyond primary care services to support overall physical health and wellness, such as skilled-nursing facilities, hospice care, and in-home healthcare.	✓
8. Increased Community Connections	As humans are social beings, community connection is a crucial part of living a healthy life. People have a need to feel connected with a larger support network and the comfort of knowing they are accepted and loved. Research suggests "individuals who feel a sense of security, belonging, and trust in their community have better health. People who don't feel connected are less inclined to act in healthy ways or work with others to promote well-being for all." Assuring that community members have ways to connect with each other through programs, services, and opportunities is important in fostering a healthy community. Furthermore, healthcare and community support services are more effective when they are delivered in a coordinated fashion, where individual organizations collaborate with others to build a network of care.	✓
9. Safe and Violence-Free Environment	Feeling safe in one's home and community is fundamental to overall health. Next to having basic needs met (e.g., food, shelter, and clothing) physical safety is essential. Feeling unsafe affects the way people act and react to everyday life occurrences. Furthermore, research has demonstrated that individuals exposed to violence in their homes, the community, and schools are more likely to experience depression and anxiety and demonstrate more aggressive, violent behavior.	✓
10. Access to Functional Needs	Functional needs include indicators related to transportation and disability. Having access to transportation services to support individual mobility is a necessity of daily life. Without transportation, individuals struggle to meet their basic needs, including those needs that promote and support a healthy life. The number of people with a disability is also an important indicator for community health and must be examined to ensure that all community members have access to necessities for a high quality of life.

11. Access to Dental Care and Preventive Services	Oral health is important for overall quality of life. When individuals have dental pain, it is difficult to eat, concentrate, and fully engage in life. Oral health disease, including gum disease and tooth decay are preventable chronic diseases that contribute to increased risk of other chronic disease, as well as play a large role in chronic absenteeism from school in children. Poor oral health status impacts the health of the entire body, especially the heart and the digestive and endocrine systems.

Significant Needs the Hospital Does Not Intend to Address

Woodland Memorial does not have the capacity or resources to address all priority health issues identified in Yolo County, although the hospital continues to seek opportunities that respond to the needs that have not been selected as priorities. The hospital is not addressing access and functional needs, and access to dental care and prevention, as these priorities are beyond the capacity and expertise of Woodland Memorial. However, the hospital will look for opportunities to coordinate and collaborate with other entities that offer programs that address this need.

2022 Implementation Strategy

This section presents strategies and program activities the hospital intends to deliver, fund or collaborate with others on to address significant community health needs over the next three years, including resources for and anticipated impacts of these activities.

Planned activities are consistent with current significant needs and the hospital's mission and capabilities. The hospital may amend the plan as circumstances warrant, such as changes in community needs or resources to address them.

Creating the Implementation Strategy

Woodland Memorial Hospital is dedicated to improving community health and delivering community benefit with the engagement of its management team, board, clinicians and staff, and in collaboration with community partners. The Community Board and Community Health Advisory Committee are composed of community members who provide stewardship and direction for the hospital as a community resource. These parties review community benefit plans and program updates prepared by the hospital's community health director and other staff.

As a matter of Dignity Health policy, the hospital's community health and community benefit programs are guided by five core principles. All of our initiatives relate to one or more of these principles:

- Focus on Disproportionate Unmet Health-Related Needs
- Emphasize Prevention
- Contribute to a Seamless Continuum of Care
- Build Community Capacity
- Demonstrate Collaboration

The following outlines the approach taken when planning and developing initiatives to address priority health issues. At the onset, Community Health and Outreach staff engages a core internal team that may include clinical staff, care coordinators and social workers, members of the hospital leadership team, and Dignity Health leaders at the regional and local levels from Mission Integration, IT, Legal, Administration, and Finance. These core teams help shape initiatives, provide internal perspective on issues (i.e. utilization trends relative to the issue, gaps experienced in available follow-up or wraparound care for patients, etc.) and help define appropriate processes, procedures and methodologies for measuring outcomes.

The planning and development of each initiative also involves research on best practices to identify existing evidence-based programs and interventions, and relationship strengthening with community-based providers that serve target populations for intended initiatives. Once identified, community-based partners become part of the hospital's core project team. Core project teams for all initiatives meet quarterly, or as needed, to evaluate program progress and outcomes, and to make program changes and/or improvements. When target populations and priority health issues are shared by other Dignity Health hospitals in the Greater Sacramento region, initiatives are often regionalized in order to leverage resources, extend reach and achieve greater impact.

Community Health Strategic Objectives

The hospital believes that program activities to help address significant community health needs should reflect a strategic use of resources and engagement of participants both inside and outside of the health care delivery system.

CommonSpirit Health has established four core strategic objectives for community health improvement activities. These objectives help to ensure that our program activities overall address strategic aims while meeting locally-identified needs.

Advance Community Health Alignment and Integration

Create robust alignment with multiple departments and programmatic integration with relevant strategic initiatives to optimize system resources for advancing community health.

Expand Clinical - Community Partnerships and Linkages

Scale initiatives that complement conventional care to be proactive and community-centered, and strengthen the connection between clinical care and social health.

Build Capacity for More Equitable Communities

Work with community members and agency partners to strengthen the capacity and resiliency of local ecosystems of health, public health, and social services.

Inspire, Innovate and Scale High Impact Initiatives

Partner, invest in and catalyze the expansion of evidence-based programs and innovative solutions that improve community health and well-being.
